BANQUET SEATING

Forbes Industries is committed to protecting the environment by minimizing wastage of natural resources. At the same time, our principled approach towards manufacturing is anchored firmly on developing and using recyclable materials.

In fulfilling our social and environmental responsibility, we aim to satisfy the needs for superior quality and aesthetic designs that appeal to the discerning designing and end-user communities.

Our seating products are produced using the highly acclaimed heat transferred process that creates natural looking wood grain finish. It gives the natural look and appeal of traditional wooden chairs without using any natural timber and wood hence preserving our precious resources and the environment at large.

Besides simulated wood grains, we produce seating using electrostatic application for the powder coating process. The result is exquisite looking seating of superior quality and reliability with metallic finishing that exudes contemporary appeal.
